

The connecting rod is shown at the top of the drawing. The crosshead slide block (of Two) is to the right. The crosshead is shown as side, end and top views. The pillow block (of two) for the valve bell-crank is shown at lower center. The crankshaft swing clearances are shown at the right.